

A Chronology of SMART Recovery®

Compiled by Shari Allwood and William White

Pre-SMART Recovery Milestones

1975

- Jean Kirkpatrick, PhD, founds Women for Sobriety, the first secular alcoholism recovery alternative to Alcoholics Anonymous.

1985

- Jack and Lois Trimpey found Rational Recovery (RR).

Late 1980s

Early 1990s

- Rational Recovery meetings spread in the US.

1990

- Articles in the Boston Globe and the New York Times as well as television coverage on such programs as The Today Show stimulate interest in rational approaches to addiction recovery. The Globe article alone generates more than 400 calls about Rational Recovery.
- First RR meeting takes place at a hospital: Mount Auburn Hospital, Cambridge, MA, 1990.
- There are 14 RR groups meeting in the US.

1991

- Jack and Lois Trimpey host the first meeting of the informal board of professional advisors to Rational Recovery in February in Dallas, Texas. A number of the individuals who will later start SMART Recovery are in attendance.

1992

- Rational Recovery prison meetings start at MCI-Concord (MA) October 6, 1992, led by Barbara Gerstein, RN, and Wally White.
- Prof. Marc Galanter (NYU) and colleagues conduct a survey study of participants in 30 Rational Recovery groups throughout the US. They conclude that RR engages participants and the likelihood of abstinence increases with the length of participation.

1993

- Survey study of Rational Recovery groups by the West End Group, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Harvard Medical School reaches the same conclusions as the 1992 Galanter group study.
- Rational Recovery training conference is held at Hyatt Harborside Hotel in Boston in conjunction with a scientific meeting featuring James Prochaska and Tom Miller as the main speakers. The meeting is sponsored by Hampstead Hospital of New Hampshire. At this meeting, a non-profit board of Rational Recovery Self-Help, Inc. is established with Dr. Joe Gerstein serving as President. This new non-profit entity marks a separation from the for-profit Rational Recovery.

SMART Recovery

1994

- The non-profit board of Rational Recovery Self-Help, Inc. votes at its annual meeting in San Diego to end its affiliation agreement with Rational Recovery and incorporate as the Alcohol & Drug Abuse Self-Help Network, Inc., d.b.a. S.M.A.R.T. Recovery (formerly Rational Recovery Self-Help Network). The name is changed to SMART Recovery in October; at the time of this split, there are 42 functioning RR meetings.
- Founding Board Members include: Dr. Joseph Gerstein, Dr. Tom Horvath, Dr. Philip Tate, Dr. Rob Sarmiento, Dr. Michler Bishop, Rich Dowling, Dr. Jeff Shaler, Ann Parmenter, LCSW, Peter Bishop, Dr. Robert Dain, Dr. Hank Robb, and Dr. Marc Kern.
- Rob Sarmiento and Joe Gerstein craft the name Self-Management and Recovery Training (SMART) to fit the copyrighted name, and it is adopted in October.
- Part-time Executive Director (Randy Cicen) and Manager of Network and Member Services (Shari Allwood) are hired.
- Central Office is established in Beachwood, OH.
- The first SMART Recovery Newsletter, News & Views, is released, consisting of 4 pages that are printed and mailed to volunteers.
- SMART Recovery is adapted for introduction into Danbury Prison for women.

1995
